It isn't every day that my high school boyfriend, Eastbrook High School's Harvest King, tells me he's gay. It's not every day that the Harvest Queen is dumped in the middle of a road with the stars watching the humiliation and the dogs barking because they want to come tear my heart out and leave it on the cold gray ground. It isn't every day that my entire world falls apart.

Belle believes that Dylan is her true love—maybe even her soulmate. Until one cold night when Dylan drops the ultimate bomb: he's gay. Where, Belle wonders, does that leave her? Should she have somehow been able to tell? Is every guy that she loves going to turn out to be gay?

This beautifully-written debut explores what happens when you are suddenly forced to see someone in a different light, and what that can teach you about yourself.
